"For whither thou goest, I will go," etc.

Dr. Dryander spoke briefly on the beauty of love, the large responsibility resting on the youthful pair, their need for the support of faith and spiritual vision. The pastor then asked his imperial highness if he took out of God's hands to have and to hold according to God's word and will, her highness, Cecelia.

The crown prince answered:

"Yes."

The same question was addressed to the duchess with the additional question "and obey" to which she also answered:

"Yes."

These were the only responses.

The rings were then exchanged and the bride and groom knelt while Dr. Dryander read the liturgical prayer, closing the ceremony, which had taken precisely 20 minutes.

The report otherwise was not traceable.

New Orleans Man Kills Wife.

New Orleans, June 7.—Arthur Duffy, a laborer, walked into Police headquarters today and said he had killed his wife. The police locked him up believing him to be intoxicated. Then they went to the Duffy home, where they found three small children weeping over their mother, who was fatally wounded. Mrs. Duffy died in the hospital. All that Duffy would say was that his wife was not faithful.

Carnegie Is Eulogized.

The Hague, June 7.—The first chamber of the states general voted $280,000 for the purchase of a site for the Palace of Peace to be erected by Andrew Carnegie. The minister of foreign affairs in supporting the measure warmly eulogized Mr. Carnegie.

OBJECTIONS MADE TO COTTON REPORT

Government's Figures Are Subject to An Attack.

IRREGULARITIES ARE CHARGED

Officers of Cotton Association Are Investigating the Manner in Which Agriculturel Department Secured Its Information on Crop for 1905.

New York, June 7.—Richard Chatham, of Atlanta, secretary of the Southern Cotton Growers' association, who is in this city, has declared his intention of calling President Roovevelt's attention to what he considers gross irregularities in both the preparation and the publication of the government cotton report issued last Friday.

Mr. Chatham will make no charges of bribery or any other crime, but his intention is to ask for a rigid investigation and that the resignation of one of the important employes in the statistical bureau of the department of agriculture be demanded. It is understood that he charges some one in advance of publication to certain brokers for use in depressing the cotton of planters and southern brokers. growers' association is an organization of planters and southern brokers. whose object it is to regulate, so far as possible, the acreage of cotton, and to protect the planters and other southern interests from manipulation of the market tending to depress the price of the staple.

Officers of the association declare they have as many experts as the department of agriculture and take every effort to secure the most trustworthy information regarding the crop condition. For several months the statistics gathered by the association have been at variance with those emanating from Washington, and the officers of the association, together with brokers and cotton merchants in this city, have conducted a secret investigation in the hope of ascertaining the reasons for the discrepancy.

A prominent broker, it is now asserted, has gathered the most important of documentary evidence in the case. From employes of the department of agriculture, he says, some of whom are in the habit of making frequent visits to this city, he learned that advance information in regard to the reports could be secured. He followed up this inquiry inquiring whether or not the report has not been changed and alleges he was successbul in this endeavor also receiving letters from at least one of the prominen firms of cotton brokers in this city had such an understanding with at least one officer. Mr. Chatham was notified of the alleged discoveries by telegraph and made a hurried trip to this city. After many hours spent in consultation he journeyed to Washington, remained a few hours and returned to New York, saying he desired signatures to a document in his possession. It is said Mr. Chatham will charge that the figures of the bureau of statistics have been manipulated in the interests of a certain bearish element in the market here, his charge will include not only the furnishing of advance information partaining to the government figures but also falsification of these figures. In the case of the report last issued last Friday he will charge that plans were laid a month in advance.

Railway Records Broken.

Chicago, June 7.—The Pennsylvania railroad broke all records for fast traveling between New York and Chicago by making the run of 897 miles in 17 hours flat. The feat was accomplished by two special trains, one running from New York to Pittsburg in eight hours, 50 minutes and the other making the run from Pittsburg to Chicago in eight hours and ten minutes. The runs were trials of speed to demonstrate the ability of the road to put into service an eight-hour service and maintain the schedule under ordinary circumstances.

PREPARING FOR SETTLEMENT.

But the Prospects for Cessation of Hostilities Not Very Bright.

Chicago, June 7.—With the union leaders preparing to settle the teamsters' strike on the installment plan and the employment association resolved that no plans for a settlement except such as comprise every strike bound interest, will be entertained, the prospect for a cessation of hostilities were not bright today.

The teamsters' joint council hoped to end the strike "sectionally," taking the department stores first and appointed a committee of three members of the department store drivers' union to meet the State street merchants.

Efforts were made to arrange a conference today. The employers announced that they would not make a settlement that did not include every firm involved. However, the teamsters hoped their move would prove an entering wedge leading to large negotiations.

President Shea, of the Teamsters' union, charged today that his arrest and imprisonment for two hours last night was for the purpose of preventing his attendance at a council meeting of the strikers

"But my friends fooled them," he said. Shea declared that the strike would go on. He asserted that if any teamster leaders wanted to make a dishonorable settlement, they dared not show their heads in the open for the reason, according to Shea, that the rank and file of the teamsters are against any surrender. The Union Leaguers say there is no chance of the team owners forcing a walk out. The strike leaders assert that thousands of small business men who, it is claimed, are profiting by the strike, will prevent the team owners taking any drastic action.

GOVERNMENT SHIP ASHORE.

She Is Stuck Hard and Fast on Bar. She Is Not in Any Danger.

New York, June 7.—The steamer which went aground off James' Island near Freeport, L. I., late last night and which at first was believed to be a transatlantic liner, proved to be the United States surveying ship Caucasia.

She was still hard and fast on the bar today, but appeared to be in no great danger and with a wrecking vessel lying close ready to take advantage of the first favorable moment it was believed that she would be floated before nightfall.

It was not thought by those who saw the steamer from the shore that she had been damaged, as she appeared to be resting easily in the sand. The Caucasia has a crew of 30 men, all of whom remained on board today.

No explanations have yet been given as to how the Caucasia got into the trouble. She had been engaged in survey work off Greenport, L. I.

Negro Killed By Sheriff.

Sylvania, Ga., June 7.—Bulloch county came very near losing her sheriff, W. B. Kendricks, at the Ogeechee river, near Rocky Ford yesterday afternoon, but, instead, a negro man, Paul Jones, whom he had captured, lost his life. The negro made a desperate resistance, striking the sheriff a severe blow in the head with a brick. The officer first shot him in the arm, thinking thus to subdue him, but this seemed only to enrage him the more, and the sheriff had to shoot him quick to save his own life. The next two shots entered the negro's body, and brought him to the ground, where he died in a short while.

Washouts Cause Fatal Accidents.

Ionia, Mich., June 7.—Washouts caused by last niht's terrific rain have caused two railroad accidents near here, one on the Pere Marquette and one on the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee line. Two men were killed in the Pere Marquette accident and four members of the train crew were injured in the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee accident. A Pere Marquette train ran into a washout near the state reformatory, and the engine was derailed and toppled over. Engineer W. Alvord and Fireman K. Payne, of Ionia, were killed and Brakemen Coffee and Nealy were slightly injured.

CANADA SURRENDERS GAYNOR AND GREENE

Must Return To United States To Stand Trial.

LONG FOUGHT BATTLE IS ENDED

Canadian Judge Renders Decision Against Them and They Are Remanded to Jail to Await Arrival of Officers to Bring Them Back.

Montreal, June 7.—Judge Lafontaine, extradition commissioners, today gave the judgment in the case of the United States versus John F. Gaynor and Benjamin F. Greene, committing both for extradition and ordering them back to jail to await surrender to United States officers.

In rendering judgment Judge Lafontaine spoke for two hours and a half. Summing up, he said:

"My conclusion is that the allegation of the conspiracy to defraud the United States as being in existence between Carter and the accused on or about July 1, 1897, is proven to the hilt; that Carter, a public officer, and agent and trustee of the United States was convicted in the United States of fraud as declared by the United States supreme court in the case of Carter versus McLaughey, that this offense of fraud and participation therein are punishable by the laws of both Canada and the demanding country; that the accused have participated in the offense of fraud committed by Carter, for which he was so convicted; that fraud by an agent and trustee and participation herein are extraditable crimes.

"Second, that Carter was guilty in the United States and found guilty of embezzlement which is known under our law under the term of theft, the difference in the name of the offense in the two countries being immaterial; that the accused have participated by their conspiracy with Carter in the embezzlement so committed by him; that such participation is punishable by the laws of both countries and is an extradittable crime.

"Third, that is July 6, 1897, the accused have fraudulently received from Carter the sum of $575,749, knowing then that the same had been embezzled (stolen) by him, and that the offense of receiving stolen property is punishable under the laws of both countries and is by the treaty section 3, an extradition crime.

"Consequently, I determine that the accused be committed to jail pending surrender."

Women Must Alight Right.

Cleveland, June 7.—Advice from the inventive minds of President Andrews and Manager Stanley of the local street railway brings consternation to women who get off street cars backward, but it will, the street car company says, avert many claims for damages. They have arranged a handrail on the seats so women must face forward when they alight. It is believed that his simple arrangement will prevent many acidents.

SEA ISLAND YIELD WILL BE LARGE

Crop in Fine Condition, and Acreage Increased Slightly.

MUCH OLD COTTON ON HAND

N. W. Littlefield, Buyer for the Brantley Company, Declares There Are 1,400 Bales in Gainesville District Alone—Quantity Will Effect Prices.

Judging from the reports of those who are posted on the situation, the Sea Island cotton production in Florida and Georgia is going to be large the coming season. The crop not only promises an exceptionally fine yield, but the acreage has been generally increased, which will mean a probable reduction in the price of the staple, especially since a great deal of the old crop is yet on hand.

N. W. Littlefield, representing the A. P. Brantley Company, Blackshear, Ga., has been in this section for the past few days buying cotton and looking over the coming situation. Mr. Littlefield, who is a very conservative man, has just completed a canvass of the Sea Island cotton districts of Florida and Georgia, and has something to say of interest to the public.

"Within the past three weeks I have visited the cotton growing districts of Florida and Georgia," he said, "and can say frankly that the crop never looked better at this season of the year. The crops are fine, and the yield promises next season to be heavy, since the acreage in both Florida and Georgia has been slightly increased. With favorable weather from now on, the yield will be a great deal heavier than last year. This would naturally mean much lower prices than those prevailing during the past season.

"The stock of old crop cotton is larger than is generally admitted. There are some 1,400 bales in the Gainesville district alone. Trade in Sea Island at this time is very dull, practically nothing being done. Unless the present stock of old cotton is offered for sale at the prevailing prices within the next few weeks it will undoubtedly be carried over until another season."

Mr. Littlefield has purchased within the past ten days in Florida about 600 bales of cotton of what is termed the old crop, being produced last year. He expects to remain here for the next few days, but states positively that this will be his last trip for this season, as he proposes to go North in a short while.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

Interesting Meeting Monday Afternoon. Important Business Transacted.

The Gainesville Ministerial Association held its regular monthly meeting in the study of the First Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon, a full membership being present, President Hay in the chair.

There was some important business transacted at this meeting which was of great interest to the association. Among other business was a motion, which prevailed, for the appointment of a committee of two to confer with the druggists of the city in the matter of keeping their respective stores open on the Sabbath. The association does not desire that the stores should be closed all day, but the sentiment was to the effect that the hours be shortened, and arrangements were made where only one drug store should be open at the same time on Sunday.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the regular union summer services, which will begin July 1 and continue for three months.

The association adjourned until the next regular meeting in July.

Five Face Murder Charge.

Clayton, Ga., June 7.—J. Frady, Tom Elliott, Mart Wellborn, Sallie Frady and Zadie Cardon, all white, were lodged in jail here charged with the murder of Malinda Gaines, a year ago. The deceased was found near her home in Persimmon district, in his county, a year ago. It was then suspected that foul play had been used and that the motive was robbery. The deceased was 75 or 80 years old. The committing trial will take place here tomorrow.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret that for cuts, burns, ulcers, fever sores, sore eyes, boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory of Hope, Tex. 25c at all drug stores.

This Girl Knew.

One of the infielders had made an error.

The rosy cheeked girl in the grand stand turned to the young man at her side.

"George," she said.

George instinctively braced himself to meet the question he foresaw as to what had happened and what all the fuss was about.

"Well," he said.

"Why don't they put a wooden Indian cigar sign on third in place of that moon faced duffer with the split cipher running gear and the glass arm? That fellow couldn't stop a toy balloon if it was lobbed right into his flippers."—Chicago Tribune.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Doctors have prescribed this medicine for over sixty years. They heartily endorse it for all diseases of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Peculiar Animal.

Regarding some of the peculiar characteristics of that strange link between birds and beasts, the duck billed platypus of Australia, a writer says: "It makes its home like an otter in a bank, tunneling up from the entrance under water some thirty or forty feet, which its powerful forearm muscles make nothing of, to a place where it can find a dry and well drained burrow. Its food consists chiefly of insects, crayfish or 'yabbess,' which it bolts, hard shell and all. It will stay from ten to fourteen minutes at a time under water, searching the mud and stones for these delicacies with its ducklike bill. It makes a most fascinating little pet, becoming very tame and squeaking with delight when fed. Its antics are a constant source of pleasure, though if care is not taken it will overeat itself, seeming to have in captivity difficulty in digesting the hard crayfish shells. Its coat is, like the mole's, of an unusually silken and glossy texture."

The Longest Day.

June 21 is the longest day of the year, the day when the sun reaches its northern limit, the tropic of Cancer. At points on the line of the arctic circle there is the wonder of the midnight sun, and many tourists go long distances to witness the sight. It is singular how accurately the semibarbarous nations were able to observe and reckon. On Salisbury plain, in England, may be seen a cromlech erected by the druids. It is a circle of huge stones which once formed a temple, but the most interesting part of the structure is the sacrificial stone, which is a broad, flat slab so placed that the rays of the rising sun strike full upon it only on the 21st of June. The old guide who shows the place to visitors tells the story that a young girl once said to him, "I suppose you have seen it hundreds of times, haven't you?"

Wouldn't Be Reconciled.

Two of the most eminent lawyers at the Philadelphia bar were Benjamin Harris Brewster and his half brother, Frederick Carroll Brewster. Both had held the office of attorney general for the state, and the first had been attorney general of the United States. They had not been on friendly terms for many years. It is said that on one occasion a mutual friend tried to bring them together, and finally Frederick C. consented to bury the hatchet and sent Benjamin H. a card containing his name, with these words written underneath, "At home on Monday evening, May 1." By the same messenger Benjamin H. sent a card in return, which read, "Benjamin H. Brewster also at home Monday evening, May 1." This ended negotiations.

Concerning Reading.

Of course reading may become a mere indulgence and dissipation, a habit to be corrected; also it is very evident that many great, resolute natures have been built up with little reading or by much reading of a few books and much pondering—much reading of men, of opinions, of events, rather than of the printed page. Men like Cromwell and Lincoln and others who have changed the course of modern history have been so nurtured. We could even point to a very great and effective modern scientific genius who, with an apparent aversion to scientific literature, gets his learning not so much from books as from experiments and from the "twenty question" system intelligently applied to friendly experts.—Century.

GOOD BLOOD
TELLS ITS OWN STORY

And tells it eloquently in the bright eye, the supple, elastic movement, the smooth, soft skin, glowing with health, a body sound and well, an active brain, good appetite and digestion, refreshing sleep, energy to perform the duties and capacity to enjoy the pleasures of life. The blood is the most vital part of the body; every organ, muscle, tissue, nerve, sinew and bone is dependent on it for nourishment and strength, and as it circulates through the system, pure and strong, it furnishes to these different parts all the healthful qualities nature intended. When, from any cause, the blood becomes impure or diseased it tells a different story, quite as forceful in its way. Itching, burning skin diseases, muddy, sallow complexions, disfiguring sores, boils, carbuncles, etc., show the presence, in the blood, of some foreign matter or poison. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Contagious Blood Poison and Scrofula, are effects of a deeply poisoned blood circulation. These may either be inherited or acquired, but the seat of trouble is the same—the blood. S. S. S., a purely vegetable blood remedy, cleanses and purifies the circulation and makes it strong and clean. Under its purifying and tonic effects all poisons and impurities are expelled from the blood, the general health is built up, all disfiguring eruptions and blemishes disappear, the skin becomes soft and smooth and robust health blesses life. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. S. Book on the blood and any medical advice, free of charge. Are all mothers wise mothers?

Do they take the twilight hours and draw out the confidence of the growing girl?

Do they warn her, study her, and instruct her?

Do they try to find the cause of the sudden gusts of temper, the headaches, and the hours of fear that are a part of the life of a growing girl?

Mothers should do these things, and where they find disease, or lack of development, they should seek the proper remedy.

CASH GROCERY COMPANY.

This Enterprising Firm Forging Ahead and Gaining New Customers.

The Cash Grocery Company, of which J. R. Emerson is manager, is gaining popularity every day and many new customers among the best people of the city are being added to the list of friends.

As the name indicates, the Cash Grocery Company is a cash proposition. They are selling goods on close margin, saving the consumer from 15 to 25 per cent, which accounts in a large measure for their success. They have no expensive bookkeeper or collector to pay, have no "dead" accounts and give the customer the benefit of a close price

This enterprising firm is handling large quantities of tomatoes and cantaloupes. They secure the product directly from the farm, have no middle-men to pay and give the customer the advantage of the lowest price obtainable. At the present rate of advancement it will not be a great while before the Cash Grocery Company will be compelled to secure larger quarters and increase the number of salesmen.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Instruction Monday petitions were presented from the voters of LaCrosse and Cherry Sink requesting that an election be called for the purpose of submitting the question as to whether or not these districts shall be made sub-school districts.

Considerable interest seems to be manifested by the people in these districts and the probabilities are that both will vote for sub-school districts.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach." Guaranteed by all druggists; price 50c.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT.

Important Memorandum.—[illegible]

The oil! linseed oil! Just pure linseed is the "life"—the one great requisite of good paint for which there is no substitute—and the sure way to get the pure, fresh linseed oil is to buy the oil and separately. For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy one gallon of linseed oil. This makes two gallons of paint, ready for use. You then know that the paint you're putting on your house is alive—"the genuine oil is in it," and paint is not paint unless it contains 50% of really pure oil. We will further explain the virtues of Kinloch Paint if you will call and see us.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

AN ADVERTISING THOUGHT.

Watering the lawn once won't keep it green the balance of the year. Advertising once won't make any noticeable difference in the annual profits.

New Jersey highwaymen who robbed the paymaster of a New York construction company got ten and fifteen years each.

The Russian Admiral Nebgatoff is not expected to sign his parole. He is one Russian who knows when he has got enough.

The weeds along some of the streets in the city need mowing down, to add to the looks of these thoroughfares and health of the city.

The idea that Russia may yet wear the Japanese out, is not altogether unreasonable, if the revolutionists do not bob up too strong.

The excessive rates on Florida fruits and vegetables to the Eastern markets are causing much complaint in different sections of the State.

The Metropolis of Jacksonville says that the committee should exercise good judgment in locating the colleges. Yes, equally as good as was exercised in abolishing them.

Col. Peter O. Knight of Tampa is a man of small stature but of extraordinary brain and energy. As a lawyer he has few equals, and as a worker against legislative measures he represents he is par excellence.

Wallace Stovall, editor of The Tampa Tribune, was at one time a student of the East Florida Seminary, and recent editorials in his excellent paper show that he is still a friend of Gainesville and the Seminary. The people of Gainesville appreciate the friendly expressions of Mr. Stovall, as well as of other former students of the East Florida Seminary.

By appointing the able attorney, Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, secretary of the navy, President Roosevelt has placed a man in his cabinet. Although this will be Mr. Bonaparte's first official position, he is known to the country at large and has made the nation his debtor for his work in behalf of civil service reform and municipal reform. From every point of view the appointment will be considered a good one and the machine politicians will be the only ones to regret it.

The Ocala Banner, whose editor is a trustee of the Florida University, takes umbrage at an editorial in The Sun of June 3rd, commenting upon a paragraph from The Lake City Index claiming that the Buckman bill was a scheme to fix the university at Lake City at the expense of the other State schools. We had no intention to convey the idea that any trustee of the university was at the bottom of the diabolical plot, and if Editor Harris draws such conclusion we beg his pardon for unintentionally wounding his feelings. The paragraph from The Index, however, clearly demonstrates that at least Senators Adams and Gillen considered the Buckman bill in the interest of the university.

PROPOSED NEW STATE.

The Punta Gorda Herald advocates the division of Florida into two States, the new commonwealth to be known as South Florida. The Herald says the new State should comprise all the territory south of a line drawn from Fernandina to Cedar Key. The basis of The Herald's advocacy of the division is the abolition of the State schools by the recent Legislature, which deprives South Florida of any aid whatever from the State for the Bartow and St. Petersburg schools, though the territory from which it is proposed to form the new State pays more than half the taxes of the entire State.

Some of the members of the Legislature from the territory comprising the proposed new State, however, are responsible for the abolition of the schools, and without their aid the Buckman bill could never have passed. A change of three votes in the Senate would have killed the bill, and the record shows that Senators Baskin, Harris, Humphries, Jackson and Sams, who represent the territory from which Editor Jordan would create the new State, voted against the substitute and every amendment offered to the Buckman bill. South Florida is indebted to some of her own representatives for the present condition of affairs, for they had the power to defeat the revolutionary measure which swept every State school out of existence.

For years past representatives from South Florida have plead with members from other sections where schools were receiving State aid to assist institutions in the southern part of the State.

Their request was granted, and now some of the very men who made such pitiful pleas for the establishing of these schools not only strike down the institutions which they asked to have established, but every other State school, including the East and West Florida Seminaries. We hope they will never have cause to regret their action, but fear they will rue the day they voted for the Buckman bill.

POOR, RICH MR. ROCKEFELLER.

The following from The Wall Street Journal will be read with interest by many, as it will apply very well to those who have been the defenders of John:

"Poor, rich Mr. Rockefeller! It is hard enough to be dissected by Ida M. Tarbell, to be investigated by the Federal government, to be hauled over the coals in the courts, to be attacked in the pulpits, to be lampooned and caricatured in the newspapers, and have the money which he gives to charitable purposes described as 'tainted.' But all these things are, after all, endurable.

"To be subjected, however, to such a weak, flabby, puerile defense as that which at great length has been made by Robert S. McArthur caps the climax of that misery which Mr. Rockefeller's wealth has purchased for him. He may well have said after reading Dr. McArthur's eulogy: 'As for my enemies, I can take care of them; but the good Lord defend me from my friends!'"

CLEANING UP.

Marshal Pinkoson is doing a good work in looking up the back alleys of the city and instructing the occupants or owners to give them a thorough renovation. There are several localities that need his attention, and it is important that the work should be thoroughly done. With proper care the alleys and outbuildings can be kept in good condition and the city be free from all infectious or contagious diseases. Don't overlook any of these places.

VERY BEST LOGIC.

The Tampa Herald says that Mayor W. R. Thomas of Gainesville is putting in some good work for his city as a location for the State University. With the very best logic at his command he is urging the city of Gainesville as the only place possessing the all-round qualifications for becoming the seat for the University when it is re-located.

Valiant Volunteers.

During one of the frequent revolutions in Haiti the commander of the government forces at Port au Prince made a requisition on the authorities at Cape Haitien for men to aid in putting down the uprising.

After a somewhat rough experience of two or three days the authorities got together the required number of men and loaded them aboard ship. Then the following message was sent:

Commander Government Forces, Port au Prince:

Sir—I send you per steamer Saginaw today 100 volunteers. Please return the ropes with which they are bound.

No Champagne For Prisoners.

At the breaking out of the Crimean war Eliza Rachel, the celebrated French tragedienne, was in St. Petersburg. Just before leaving the Russian capital some of the officials of the city gave a banquet in her honor. At the end of the feast one of the Russian officers, a nobleman of high rank, said to Rachel in a bantering sort of way:

"We will not bid you 'goodby,' but merely 'au revoir,' for we will soon be in Paris to drink your health in sparkling champagne."

"Monsieur," replied Rachel, "France is not rich enough to treat all her prisoners of war to champagne."

Diplomatic.

"Of course the earrings are quite pretty," she said, with just a tinge of disappointment, "but the stones are very small."

"But, my dear," replied Mr. Phoxy, "if they were any larger they'd be all out of proportion to the size of your ears."—Philadelphia Press.

Periodic Pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a most remarkable remedy for the relief of periodic pains, backache, nervous or sick headache, or any of the distressing aches and pains that cause women so much suffering.

As pain is weakening, and leaves the system in an exhausted condition, it is wrong to suffer a moment longer than necessary, and you should take the Anti-Pain Pills on first indication of an attack.

If taken as directed you may have entire confidence in their effectiveness, as well as in the fact that they will leave no disagreeable after-effects.

They contain no morphine, opium, chloral, cocaine or other dangerous drugs.

"For a long time I have suffered greatly with spells of backache, that seem almost more than I can endure. These attacks come on every month, and last two or three days. I have never been able to get anything that would give me much relief until I began the use of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and they always relieve me in a short time. My sister, who suffers the same way, has used them with the same results." MRS. PARK.

KING ALFONSO SEEING LONDON.

American Ambassador Attends Reception to Spain's Ruler.

London, June 7—The king of Spain opened a long program of engagements today with the reception of the diplomatic corps at the Buckingham palace. All the ambassadors and ministers now in London with the staffs of the embassies and legations attended including Ambassador Reid and the other members of the American embassy.

Mr. Reid had a long talk with King Alfonso who referred to some of the ambassador's past services. At the request of the Spanish king the ambassador presented the members of the embassy to his majesty.

Subsequently King Alfonso escorted by a detachment of life guards proceeded to attend the celebration of mass by a Roman Catholic at the cathedral at Westminister. There was some excitement on the way there caused by members of the escort being thrown owing to their horse slipping on the wet asphalt.

Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at all drug stores. Price 50c and $1 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Walsh was an Irishman without family or relatives in this country.

Since the adjournment of the grand jury some time ago Mr. Morrison and Mr. Pagin have been in daily conference concerning the form of indictments. DR. ALICE STOCKHAM GUILTY.

Judge Directs Verdict Against Her for Improper Use of Mails.

Chicago, June 7.—Judge S. H. Bethea, in the federal court, has directed a verdict of guilty against Dr. Alice B. Stockham, 71 years of age, and Edward B. Beckwith, manager of the Stockham Publinshing company, who are charged with circulating improper literature by mails and express. In deciding the case Judge Bethea said

"When the laws were framed it was not believed the general discussion of the marriage relation was advisable. If these persons believe they are right in teaching these subjects so that the young may learn of them they should have their doctrines interwoven in the laws of the land. What we have to do is to uphold the law as it stands."

Among the witnesses for the defense She declared she had received hundreds Thomas testified that he believed the woman's work was uplifting instead of harmful even to the young, and that Mrs. Stockham has for years been doing a work which is to be commended and not scoffed at.

It was ascertained by Dr. Stockham and her witnesses that she has been in the publishing business several years and never had been questioned by the government in regard to mailing what she said to be medical advice. She declared she had reiced hundreds of letters from persons who had read her books thanking her for helping them.

LIVES LOST BY TORNADO.

Lower Michigan is Swept by a Terrific Electrical and Wind Storm.

Detroit, Mich., June 7—An electrical storm which seems to have gone through lower Michigan Monday night took the form of a tornado in the "Thumb" district. Through the counties of Tuscola and Sanilac it swept a path of death and devastation half a mile wide.

Two children were killed and ten other persons were injured.

In addition to the above Elsie Appleman, aged 12, was killed by lightning at Central Lake, in Charlevoix county. Three men who had taken refuge with Morrow in a vacant building also sustained severe shocks.

The tornado started northeast of Cairo and took a northeasterly direction, sweeping a path half a mile wide in which residences and farm buildings were razed to the ground and stock and crops suffered heavy damages. Before crossing the line from Tuscola into Sanilac county the storm split in two. The weaker division passed through Novesta and Snover, while the more destructive branch passed farther to the north, reaching Cass City, Urban and Laing.

THE POSTAGE STAMP

HOW IT IS MADE BY UNCLE SAM'S EXPERT WORKMEN.

The Manufacturing Process From the Engraving of the Steel Die to the Finished Gummed, Pressed and Perforated Printed Sheet.

The first mechanical process in the manufacture of a postage stamp is the cutting, or engraving, of the die. This is a piece of steel of the finest quality, on the polished surface of which a man slowly and patiently cuts, line by line, the portrait or other emblem which has been adopted for this particular stamp. A steel engraving is what is called an incised plate—that is, every line which is to show in the finished print is cut into the surface instead of being left in relief, as in wood engraving.

The die which the engraver cuts is a "negative;" in other words, a reversal of the design which the stamp will show. The reason for this soon becomes apparent.

When the die is finished and proofs show it to be satisfactory it is hardened and fixed in the bed of a powerful press. Over it is then passed a steel roller, the circumference of which is several times, perhaps four times, the diameter of the die. Immense pressure is applied, so that every line on the surface of the die is impressed upon the surface of the roller as many times as the circumference of the roller is larger than the area of the die. In this way four perfect copies of the die are reproduced on the roller, but reversed. Each of these impressions is a "positive."

This roller is now hardened in turn in order that it may transmit the impressions once more, this time to the plate from which the actual printing is to be made. This plate is also of steel. The size is sufficient to print a whole sheet of stamps—from 200 to 300—at a single impression.

Into the surface of this plate the impression on the roller is forced by great pressure, once for each stamp in the subsequent sheet, and then the plate is hardened. These impressions are negatives, so that the prints from them—the stamps themselves—will be positives.

The reason for all this preliminary work is most interesting. In the first place, printing could not be done from a single die because of the vast quantities of stamps required. In the second place, it could not be done from the roller, because on that the lines are in relief instead of being incised, and in the third place, it would not be feasible to have several dies or a large number of them engraved, both because the expense would be prohibitive and because no two would then be absolutely alike. The present system makes it certain that every stamp of a certain lot is exactly like every other of the same lot—a great safeguard against counterfeiting.

When three printing plates have been made they are all fastened to the bed of a special printing press. When the machinery is started the first plate is inked, then automatically wiped until it is like a mirror. The wiping removes all the ink except what clings in the lines of the 200 duplicate engravings which dot the surface.

Over the plate is laid a sheet of dampened paper, the plate is slightly warmed in order to permit the ink to swell, and heavy pressure is applied. Meanwhile the second plate is receiving its ink, and then the third comes into play, so that, although all three are on the same press, each is at a given moment undergoing a different process from either of the other two. This has wrought a great saving of time over the old process of printing by hand. When the printed sheets are dry they go to the gumming machine, in which they pass between a dry roller on one side and one moistened with mucilage on the other. From these rollers they are cast out, wet side up, upon an endless web, which carries them through a steam heated box.

They come out dry, ready for the perforations, which permit them to be torn apart easily. These are very easily made by passing the sheets between one cylinder studded with steel pins and another perforated with holes to match the pins. The two together act like the jaws of a conductor's punch.

The last process is pressing the sheets y hydraulic power to counteract the endency to curl, which is imparted by he mucilage.

The printing of stamps, like the print- g of gold and silver certificates and nk notes, is subject to the most care- l and constant inspection.

very sheet of paper is counted be- e it is delivered to the printer, and ere he goes home at night he must rn exactly the same number of s, either of perfect stamps or d paper, and no "seconds" or s are given away to visitors.— d Williston Frentz in Youth's anion.

The Elephant's Eye.

[illegible] mind two things strike the [illegible] vividly when standing close [illegible] elephants in their native haunts," writes a traveler. "The one is the gigantic size and his own comparative smallness. The other is the expression of the eye. This organ, which is surprisingly small in proportion to the size of the animal and set far back in the head, is of a pale blue color much resembling that of a wall eye in a horse. Even when an elephant is at rest his eye has an uncomfortably cold and sinister look."

A Hero by Accident.

"There's no telling what moment a man's fortune may turn or what may decide the turning," remarked the visitor, who had been listening to the interchange of stories.

"That's so," agreed one of the bystanders. "The only question is whether the man's got the wit to see the chance and the grit to make use of it."

"Well, even that isn't always necessary. I was out on the frontier some years back when a young fellow I knew to be a 'white head' was promoted in his regiment and paragraphed in all the eastern papers for his courage and coolness. He had been sent out to meet an attacking party of Indians. He didn't want to go a t. He actually trembled when he confessed to me it was his first call to dangerous duty and he'd give anything on earth to be out of the affair. In less than twenty-four hours the station was ringing with the way he had held his ground, even when his men had beat a retreat. It was a miracle he wasn't captured or killed, staying there single handed to face and fire on the advancing foe"—

"Just one of those instances of a man finding his native courage in the presence of real danger?"

"Not a bit of it. He was riding a mule, and just at the critical moment the animal planted his feet and refused to budge."—Youth's Companion.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence county, N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medigine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." J. W McCollum & Co.

Long Winded Oratory.

It is no new thing for the house of commons to suffer from long winded oratory. As long ago as the sixteenth century Queen Bess soundly rated her lawmakers for not working more and talking less, and some years later Speaker Long actually succumbed to a succession of lengthy speeches. "The house is empty, and so be our stomachs," one impatient member declared. "I pray you, therefore, adjourn the debate for an hour." But the speaker declined to budge from the post of duty, with the result that he was taken ill and died shortly after. Brougham once spoke for six hours on end on law reform, Sheridan and Gladstone both have records of five hour speeches, Mr. Biggar tied their record, and Palmerston once held forth for four hours and a half on Don Pacifico.

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by all druggists.

DR. ALICE STOCKHAM GUILTY.

Judge Directs Verdict Against Her for Improper Use of Mails.

Chicago, June 7.—Judge S. H. Bethea, in the federal court, has directed a verdict of guilty against Dr. Alice B. Stockham, 71 years of age, and Edward B. Beckwith, manager of the Stockham Publishing company, who are charged with circulating improper literature by mails and express. In deciding the case Judge Bethea said

"When the laws were framed it was not believed the general discussion of the marriage relation was advisable. If these persons believe they are right in teaching these subjects so that the young may learn of them they should have their doctrines interwoven in the laws of the land. What we have to do is to uphold the law as it stands."

Among the witnesses for the defense She declared she had received hundreds Thomas testified that he believed the woman's work was uplifting instead of harmful even to the young, and that Mrs. Stockham has for years been doing a work which is to be commended and not scoffed at.

It was ascertained by Dr. Stockham and her witnesses that she has been in the publishing business several years and never had been questioned by the government in regard to mailing what she said to be medical advice. She declared she had reiced hundreds of letters from persons who had read her books thanking her for helping them.

LIVES LOST BY TORNADO.

Lower Michigan Is Swept by a Terrific Electrical and Wind Storm.

Detroit, Mich., June 7—An electrical storm which seems to have gone through lower Michigan Monday night took the form of a tornado in the "Thumb" district. Through the counties of Tuscola and Sanilac it swept a path of death and devastation half a mile wide.

Two children were killed and ten other persons were injured.

In addition to the above Elsie Appleman, aged 12, was killed by lightning at Central Lake, in Charlevoix county. Three men who had taken refuge with Morrow in a vacant building also sustained severe shocks.

The tornado started northeast of Cairo and took a northeasterly direction, sweeping a path half a mile wide in which residences and farm buildings were razed to the ground and stock and crops suffered heavy damages. Before crossing the line from Tuscola into Sanilac county the storm split in two. The weaker division passed through Novesta and Snover, while the more destructive branch passed farther to the north, reaching Cass City, Urban and Laing.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the Murder Remains Mystery.

Birmingham, Ala., June 7.—There has been no further action in the case of the murder of the late Isaac W. Walter, who was shot and killed close to his home, in Woodlawn, one night recently. A reward of $500 has been offered for the arrest of the murderer or murderers by the family, but no arrests have been made. There are rumors hat a well known young man is being shadowed by the police and sheriff's authorities, but they decline to give the name. It is intimated that arrests to be made will cause a sensation.

Mrs. S. Lindsay of Fort William, Ontario, Canada, who has suffered quite a number of years from dyspepsia and great pains in the stomach, was advised by her druggist to take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. If troubled with dyspepsia or indigestion why not take these tablets, get well and stay well? For sale by all druggists.

THE POSTAGE STAMP

HOW IT IS MADE BY UNCLE SAM'S EXPERT WORKMEN.

The Manufacturing Process From the Engraving of the Steel Die to the Finished Gummed, Pressed and Perforated Printed Sheet.

The first mechanical process in the manufacture of a postage stamp is the cutting, or engraving, of the die. This is a piece of steel of the finest quality, on the polished surface of which a man slowly and patiently cuts, line by line, the portrait or other emblem which has been adopted for this particular stamp. A steel engraving is what is called an incised plate—that is, every line which is to show in the finished print is cut into the surface instead of being left in relief, as in wood engraving.

The die which the engraver cuts is a "negative;" in other words, a reversal of the design which the stamp will show. The reason for this soon becomes apparent.

When the die is finished and proofs show it to be satisfactory it is hardened and fixed in the bed of a powerful press. Over it is then passed a steel roller, the circumference of which is several times, perhaps four times, the diameter of the die. Immense pressure is applied, so that every line on the surface of the die is impressed upon the surface of the roller as many times as the circumference of the roller is larger than the area of the die. In this way four perfect copies of the die are reproduced on the roller, but reversed. Each of these impressions is a "positive."

This roller is now hardened in turn in order that it may transmit the impressions once more, this time to the plate from which the actual printing is to be made. This plate is also of steel. The size is sufficient to print a whole sheet of stamps—from 200 to 300—at a single impression.

Into the surface of this plate the impression on the roller is forced by great pressure, once for each stamp in the subsequent sheet, and then the plate is hardened. These impressions are negatives, so that the prints from them—the stamps themselves—will be positives.

The reason for all this preliminary work is most interesting. In the first place, printing could not be done from a single die because of the vast quantities of stamps required. In the second place, it could not be done from the roller, because on that the lines are in relief instead of being incised, and in the third place, it would not be feasible to have several dies or a large number of them engraved, both because the expense would be prohibitive and because no two would then be absolutely alike. The present system makes it certain that every stamp of a certain lot is exactly like every other of the same lot—a great safeguard against counterfeiting.

When three printing plates have been made they are all fastened to the bed of a special printing press. When the machinery is started the first plate is inked, then automatically wiped until it is like a mirror. The wiping removes all the ink except what clings in the lines of the 200 duplicate engravings which dot the surface.

Over the plate is laid a sheet of dampened paper, the plate is slightly warmed in order to permit the ink to swell, and heavy pressure is applied. Meanwhile the second plate is receiving its ink, and then the third comes into play, so that, although all three are on the same press, each is at a given moment undergoing a different process from either of the other two. This has wrought a great saving of time over the old process of printing by hand. When the printed sheets are dry they go to the gumming machine, in which they pass between a dry roller on one side and one moistened with mucilage on the other. From these rollers they are cast out, wet side up, upon an endless web, which carries them through a steam heated box.

They come out dry, ready for the perforations, which permit them to be torn apart easily. These are very easily made by passing the sheets between one cylinder studded with steel pins and another perforated with holes to match the pins. The two together act like the jaws of a conductor's punch.

The last process is pressing the sheets y hydraulic power to counteract the endency to curl, which is imparted by he mucilage.

The printing of stamps, like the print g of gold and silver certificates and nk notes, is subject to the most care l and constant inspection.

very sheet of paper is counted be e it is delivered to the printer, and re he goes home at night he must n exactly the same number of s, either of perfect stamps or d paper, and no "seconds" or ies are given away to visitors.— d Williston Frentz in Youth's nion.

The Elephant's Eye.

y mind two things strike the vividly when standing close elephants in their native haunts," writes a traveler. "The one is the gigantic size and his own comparative smallness. The other is the expression of the eye. This organ, which is surprisingly small in proportion to the size of the animal and set far back in the head, is of a pale blue color much resembling that of a wall eye in a horse. Even when an elephant is at rest his eye has an uncomfortably cold and sinister look."

A Hero by Accident.

"There's no telling what moment a man's fortune may turn or what may decide the turning," remarked the visitor, who had been listening to the interchange of stories.

"That's so," agreed one of the bystanders. "The only question is whether the man's got the wit to see the chance and the grit to make use of it."

"Well, even that isn't always necessary. I was out on the frontier some years back when a young fellow I knew to be a 'white head' was promoted in his regiment and paragraphed in all the eastern papers for his courage and coolness. He had been sent out to meet an attacking party of Indians. He didn't want to go a t. He actually trembled when he confessed to me it was his first call to dangerous duty and he'd give anything on earth to be out of the affair. In less than twenty-four hours the station was ringing with the way he had held his ground, even when his men had beat a retreat. It was a miracle he wasn't captured or killed, staying there single handed to face and fire on the advancing foe"—

"Just one of those instances of a man finding his native courage in the presence of real danger?"

"Not a bit of it. He was riding a mule, and just at the critical moment the animal planted his feet and refused to budge."—Youth's Companion.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence county, N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medigine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." J. W McCollum & Co.

Long Winded Oratory.

It is no new thing for the house of commons to suffer from long winded oratory. As long ago as the sixteenth century Queen Bess soundly rated her lawmakers for not working more and talking less, and some years later Speaker Long actually succumbed to a succession of lengthy speeches. "The house is empty, and so be our stomachs," one impatient member declared. "I pray you, therefore, adjourn the debate for an hour." But the speaker declined to budge from the post of duty, with the result that he was taken ill and died shortly after. Brougham once spoke for six hours on end on law reform, Sheridan and Gladstone both have records of five hour speeches, Mr. Biggar tied their record, and Palmerston once held forth for four hours and a half on Don Pacifico.

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by all druggists.
